SjS Editorial

September 9, 1996

To whom it may concern,

During the Fall and Winter of 1992, I was the project editor for one of Devra's first computer books (the DOS 6 Handbook for IDG Books). During the following year, I was again IDG's representative as the project editor for the DOS 6 Command Reference and Problem Solver. Since that time, I have served as an editorial and technical consultant on many of her other projects, including her series of Teach Yourself... titles for MIS:Press as well as some of her work for Prima Publishing (such as The CD-ROM Revolution).

Devra recently completed a revision to her best-selling Teach Yourself Delphi and I am sure has numerous other projects waiting her attention. She has a very solid reputation as author and I look forward to continuing to work with her on future projects. If I can answer any questions for you, please feel free to contact me at (206) 703-4750.

Stuart J. Stuple
Owner